INTERNATIONAL ALUMINIUM

Aluminium, shaping a better tomorrow

The International Aluminium
Institute (IAI) is the only global voice for the primary aluminium industry.

The IAI was established in 1972. IAI members are engaged in the production of bauxite, alumina and aluminium, the recycling of aluminium or the fabrication of aluminium in all the major producing regions and are committed to improvements in sustainable production, use and recycling of aluminium.

Through the IAI, the aluminium industry aims to demonstrate both its responsibility in producing the metal and the potential benefits to be realised through its use in sustainable applications and recycling.

Aluminium-producing companies are eligible for IAI membership, which brings benefits including access to performance benchmarking data and industry trend modelling, as well as the opportunity to lead and engage in global industry initiatives on issues of common interest.

THE IAI'S VISION IS FOR ALUMINIUM PRODUCTS TO SUPPORT SOLUTIONS TO GLOBAL CHALLENGES.

The IAI's mission is to:

Actively promote aluminium and its benefits

Reinforce the aluminium industry's sustainability advantages

Collect and provide industry statistics and tools to enable stakeholders to make informed decisions

Contribute to standards and regulation that encourage wise use of aluminium

Foster improved performance in the industry by:

- facilitating collaborative research to address key sustainability challenges
- providing a forum for sharing of best practice
- communicating the views and positions of the aluminium industry to international agencies and other stakeholders
- cooperating with regional and national aluminium associations efficiently and cost-effectively.
